Step 3: Set goals using the SMART system.

Specific: Choose a specific goal. For example, commit to exercising 30 minutes a day rather than the vague wish of “exercising more.”

Measurable: Determine how you will measure your goal. You can track how often you exercise in a week, how many minutes per workout, or how many miles you run in a week.

Accountable: Develop a way to be held accountable. Sharing your goal with a friend or coworker and asking him or her to follow up with you is a great way to answer for your progress.

Realistic: Make sure that your goal is attainable. Set goals that you can keep, like exercising 30 minutes a day rather than 2 hours per day.

Timeframe: Establish a specific time in which you plan to accomplish your goal. You can create benchmarks for daily, weekly, and monthly goals, adjusting along the way as needed.

Step 4: Evaluate your progress.

Taking time to check in on your progress is a great way to maintain motivation as you work toward your goals. Regularly stop to assess how you’re doing, and ask yourself if you need to make any adjustments to your plan. With that in mind, keep moving forward on your journey toward success by continuing to use the Slique collection that best matches your goals. Most importantly, stay true to yourself and tailor your plan and goals to fit you!

You can customize and supplement your kit during your journey by incorporating different Slique products into your daily routine. Take a look at all the different ways Slique can help you!
